LET ME TELL YOU A STORY...

In 1994, a young wannabe comedian started comedy night in Nottingham.

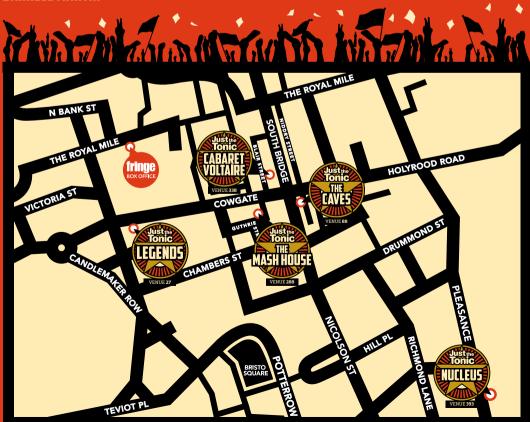

It was named 'Just the Tonic' In 1995, he worked for a large agency, handing out flyers and doing tech for Sean Lock and The Comedy Zone (featuring Dave Gorman and Julian Barrett) at the Edfringe Festival. Despite previously being involved in various hedonistic activities, he was amazed by this month-long fun adults could have in an entire city... he was hooked.

In 1997, he it made it to the final of The Daily Telegraph Open Mic Award, losing to Paul Foot. 2000, was offered the chance to compere the Big Value Comedy Show at Café Royal, (same year as Mickey Flanagan). Two years later, was asked to produce the Big Value shows, giving Jim Jefferies his first Edinburgh run. This resulted in 2004 being asked to produce all the shows at Café Royal, and Just the Tonic Edinburgh was born.

That person was me and he will stop writing about himself in the 3rd person because he finds it so annoying.

Since then, we've moved venues and added more spaces, always growing through recommendations. Our journey has been chaotic but fun, hosting both future stars and those who simply love performing at Edfringe. Welcome to Just the Tonic 2024: celebrating 20 years at Edfringe and 30 years of comedy. Enjoy!
